- Recording the evidence that a request (identified by `reqID`) was made
- Sending a response to the requests
- Settling the payment for the request

Valid transactions for the functions `register()`, `unregister()`, and `replenish()` are also recorded on the chain for later analytics.

Here’s a simple test sequence to test the Dapp: