

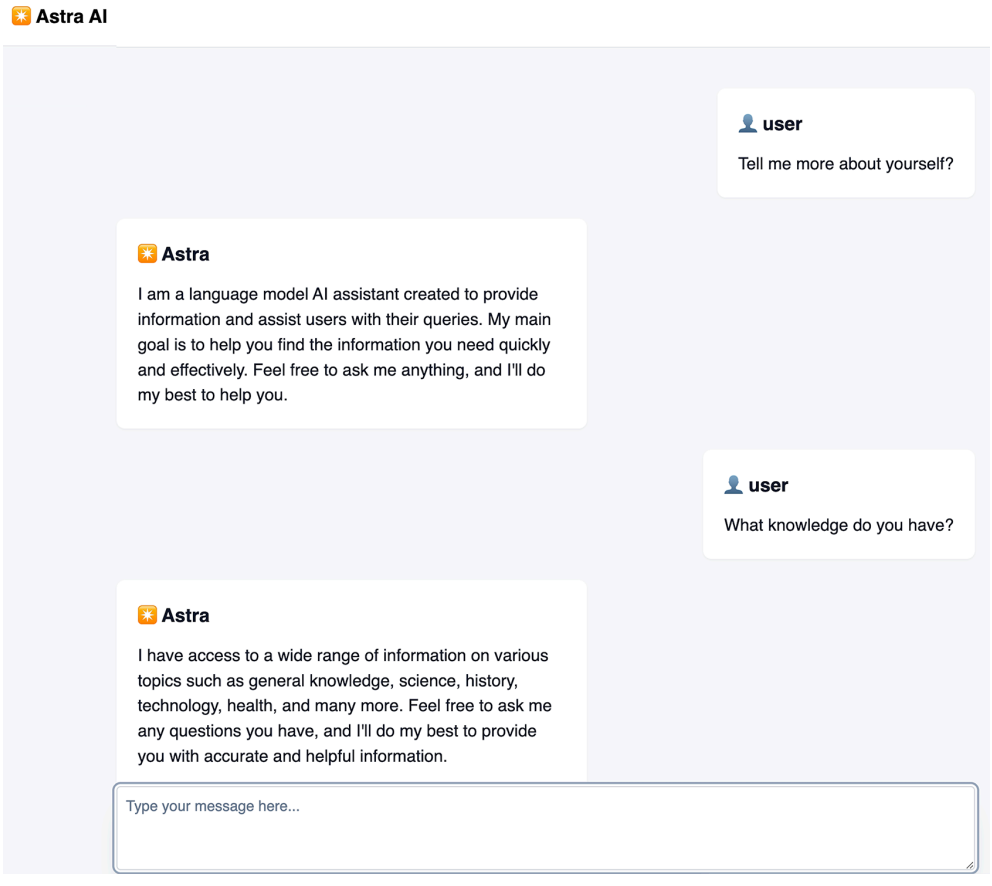

Figure 2.3 A screenshot of Astra AI in action. We can interact with the agent, and it will respond politely.

Upon submitting your query, you'll observe a brief "Please wait" indicator as Astra AI processes your request. Then, Astra AI will provide its response, which will appear in the chat history, and the input text box will be ready for your next question.

For your second interaction, type

```
What knowledge do you have?
```

Astra AI will again process your request and generate another informative response.

PROJECT STRUCTURE OVERVIEW

We take the simplest approach with this example project. Since it's a single feature that we are building, we have all relevant source code with a relevant flat folder hierarchy. For instance, the components folder houses all React components, and the
