They say that matter cannot be created,
A fundamental principle and law,
While dragons keep emerging, unabated;
As many as you slay, there's still one more.
Our ignorance is limitless—be grateful,
Or else we'd find we've nothing left to learn;
To be surprised by dragons may be fateful,
But truth be told, it's best laid plans that burn.
We could seek out the dragons in their dungeons
And tread there softly, ready to retreat;
We could seek other roads, postponing large ones,
And only fight the ones we might defeat.
The world could be a world of dragon slayers
And stand as men and women, not as mice;
The joy that comes from learning more should sway us;
The fiercest dragons won't surprise us twice.
Discover tiny dragons, be they few,
And all the mightiest, with equal praise—
Uncertainty's our muse of all that's new,
And ignorance the space in which she plays.
