
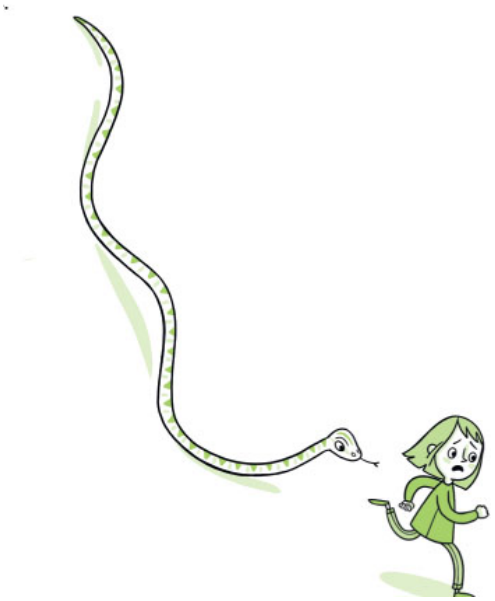
Game science


The snake always has to end, because you'll run out of space and dots. But with practice, you can use clever moves to trap your opponent into drawing the last line!