Game science

This game is also known as Sim, and it was invented in 1969 by code expert Gustavus Simmons. Mathematicians have figured out that you cannot tie at Sim! Someone will always end up having to draw a triangle. The question is, will it be you?

