
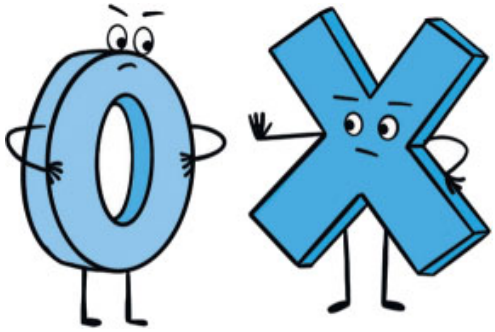
So they might do this, for example.



Game science

The more you overlap the other player’s blocks, the more space you leave free for the next move. The farther away from them you go, the more spaces you’ll fill up with your block! You can use either of these sneaky strategies, depending on the stage of the game and whether you want to save space or use it up.

5 Keep taking turns adding your symbols and blocks.