The player who takes the last coin is the winner.

Game science

Once you get down to fewer than 20 coins, it’s a smart game of strategy to make your opponent end up with two coins. They have no choice but to take one, and you win!