
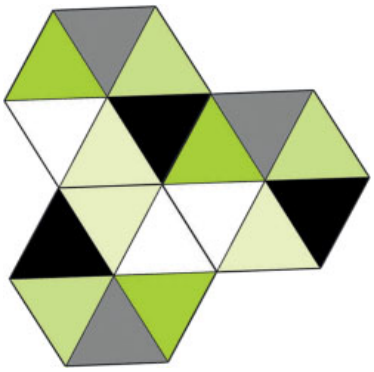
Each player must place their tile so that the triangles match, like this.



You might be able to match two triangles at once, like this.

7 If you match one triangle, you get one point. You get two points if you match two—and so on! When the tiles are all used up, the person with the highest score wins.