

5 Now you can write your secret spy message along the tube, putting a separate letter on each section of paper.

6 To scramble the message, carefully unwind it from the cylinder and fold it up neatly.

If you use the wrong size of cylinder, it won't work!

7 In this form, the letters on the strip are pretty much impossible to make sense of. The only way to read the message is to wrap the strip around the cylinder again—or another cylinder that's exactly the same width.
