How to play

1 Everyone stands in a circle and takes turns throwing the ball or beanbag to someone else in the group. As you throw, you count up from one. So the first thrower shouts “one,” the next thrower shouts “two,” and so on. (It doesn’t matter if someone drops the ball—just pick it up and keep going!)

2 However, when you get to a number that’s in the seven times table, you don’t shout it out. Instead, you shout …

3 If anyone forgets and says the number instead, everyone else shouts “BUZZ,” and the person is out of the game.
