

2 One person in the group is picked as the “caller.” They shout out “Go!” and the two players have to quickly write a number on the wall next to them. They must stay facing away from each other, so they can’t see the other person’s number.

