equations inside your head!).

You might also find that some types of vehicles are MUCH more common than others. Why do you think that is?

Try this, too!

You could invent similar games for types of plants or trees on a country walk, or types of pebbles or seashells you can find at the beach.

