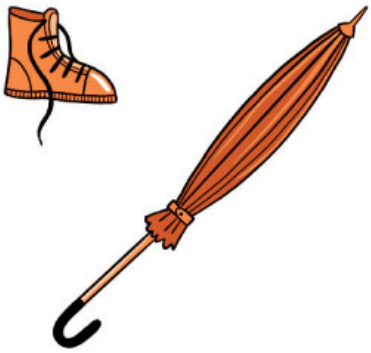
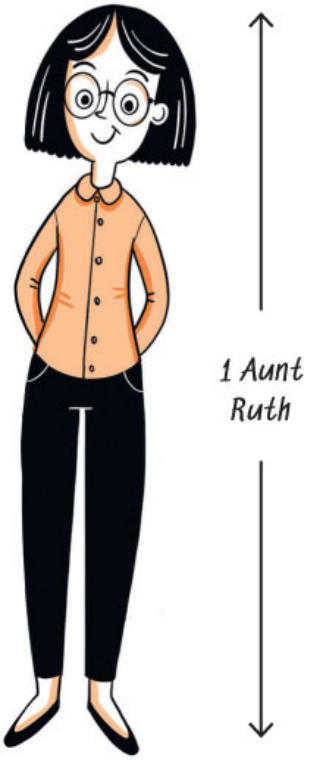
1 To play Smoots, pick an object (or a person, if they don’t mind!), and guess how many of them there are in a particular distance—such as the length of a room.





2 Write down your guess, then use your object to measure the distance and see how close you were!