

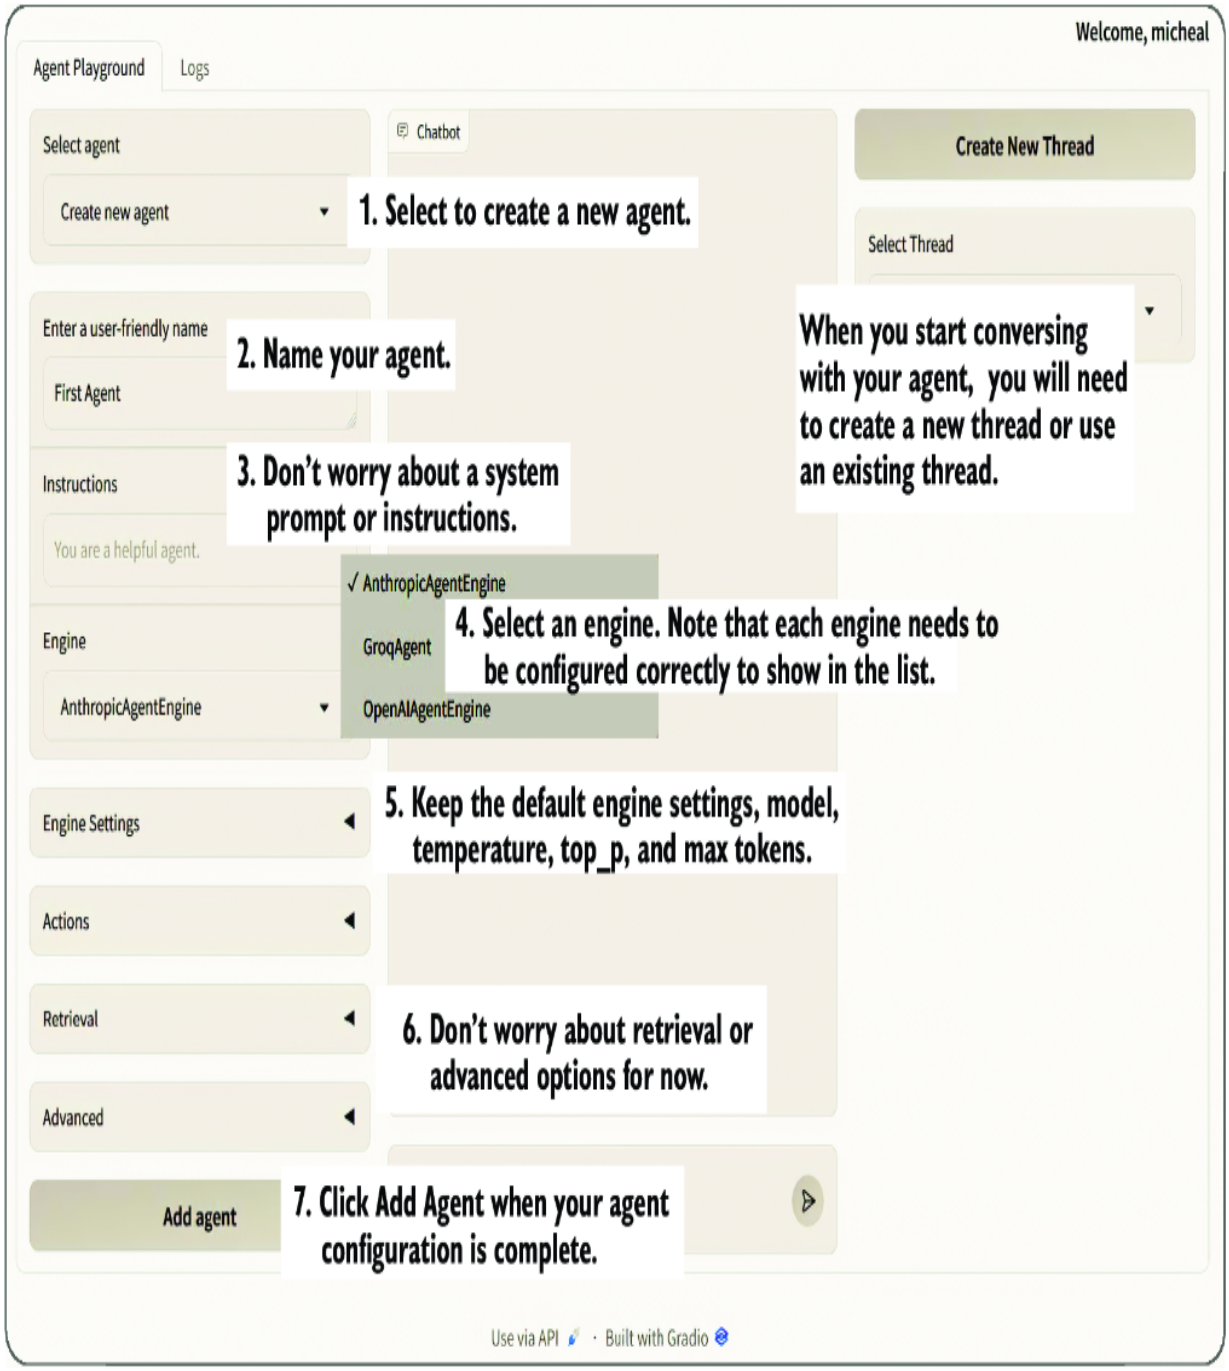

Figure 11.2 Creating a new agent in Nexus

After creating the agent, we want to give it specific actions (tools) to undertake or complete a goal. Generally, providing only the actions an agent needs to complete its goal is best for a few reasons:

- More actions can confuse an agent into deciding which to use or even how to solve a goal.