confirmation link for SNS. Check your inbox and click the link to confirm your subscription to the notification list.

To test the alarm, go back to the Lambda function and modify the environment variable `expected`. For example, modify the value from `cloudonaut` to `FAILURE`. This will cause the health check to fail, because the word `FAILURE` does not appear on the website. It might take up to 15 minutes before you receive a notification about the failed website health check via email.