- Integrating S3 into your applications will help you implement the concept of a stateless server, because you don’t have to store objects locally on the server.
- Enable Block Public Access for all buckets, or at least those buckets that contain sensitive information to avoid data leaks.
- When optimizing for high performance, make sure to use many different key prefixes instead of similar ones or the same prefix for all objects.