Creating a website using Visual Studio
Creating a website using the command-line interface
Running the application
Adding a new page
Modifying to include dynamic content
Adding the page to the navigation

2.2 Exploring the project files

The WebApplication1.sln file
The WebApplication1.csproj file
The bin and obj folders
The Properties folder
The wwwroot folder
The Pages folder
The app-settings files
Program.cs

2.3 Understanding middleware

An HTTP refresher
The HttpContext
The application request pipeline
Creating middleware
Middleware classes

3 Working with Razor Pages

3.1 Working with Razor syntax

Directives and code blocks
Rendering HTML with expressions
Control blocks in Razor
Rendering literal strings
Rendering literal HTML

3.2 Layout pages

Assigning the Layout property
Injecting optional content with sections