

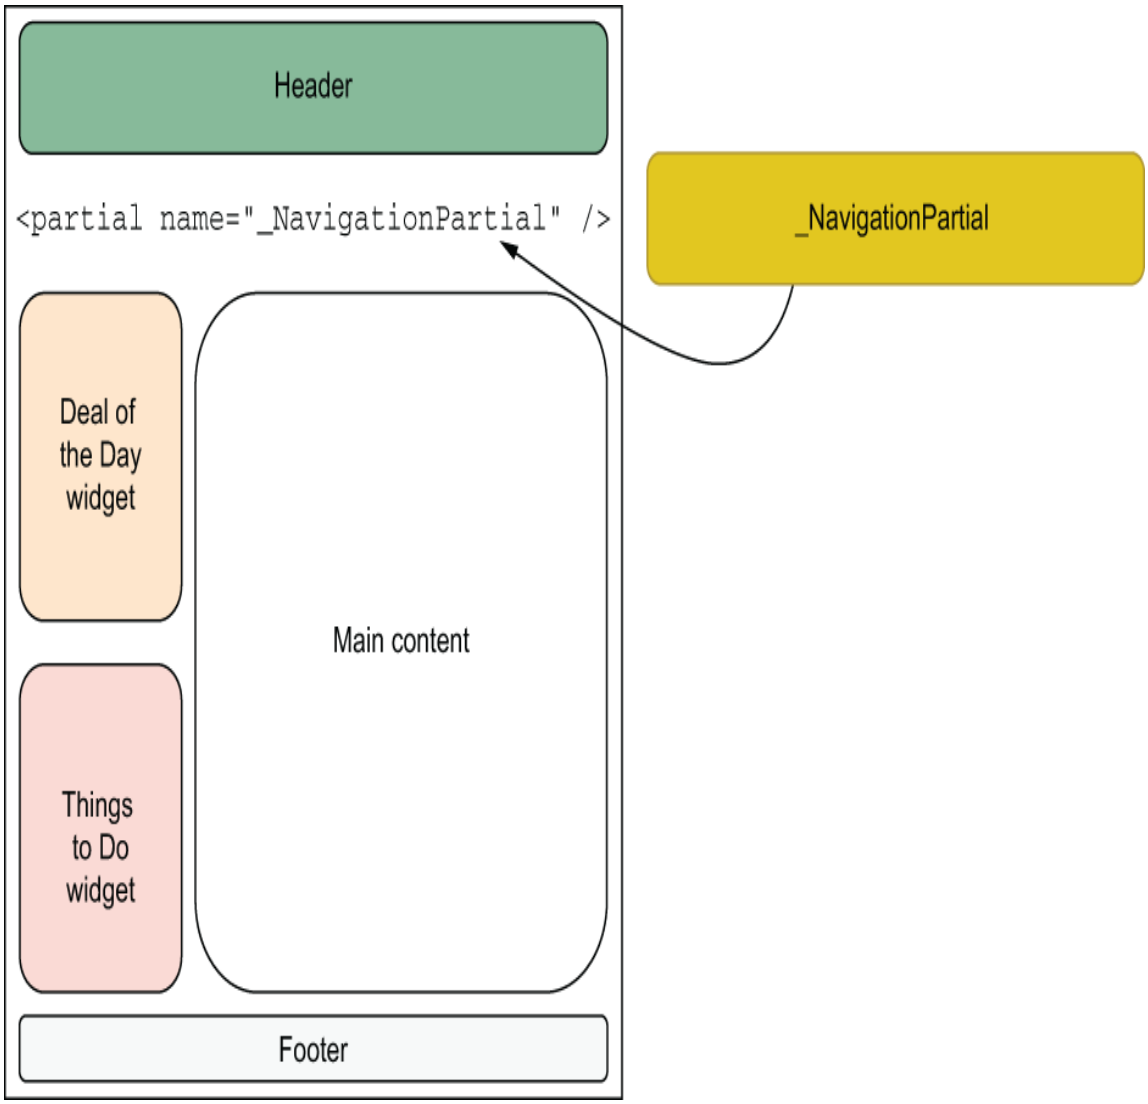

Figure 3.6 The contents of _NavigationPartial are inserted into the Razor file at the point they are referenced via the partial tag helper.

Partial views can also be used to avoid repetition of code. The standard project template includes a partial file in the Pages\Shared folder named _ValidationScriptsPartial.cshtml. It contains two script elements that reference scripts for validating form values. You will use this partial in chapter 5 when you look at form validation.

The partial in the example and the validation scripts partial consist of static content. Partials can also work with dynamic content. The nature of the dynamic