Once this has been done, you can run the application and enjoy the new home page (figure 8.7).

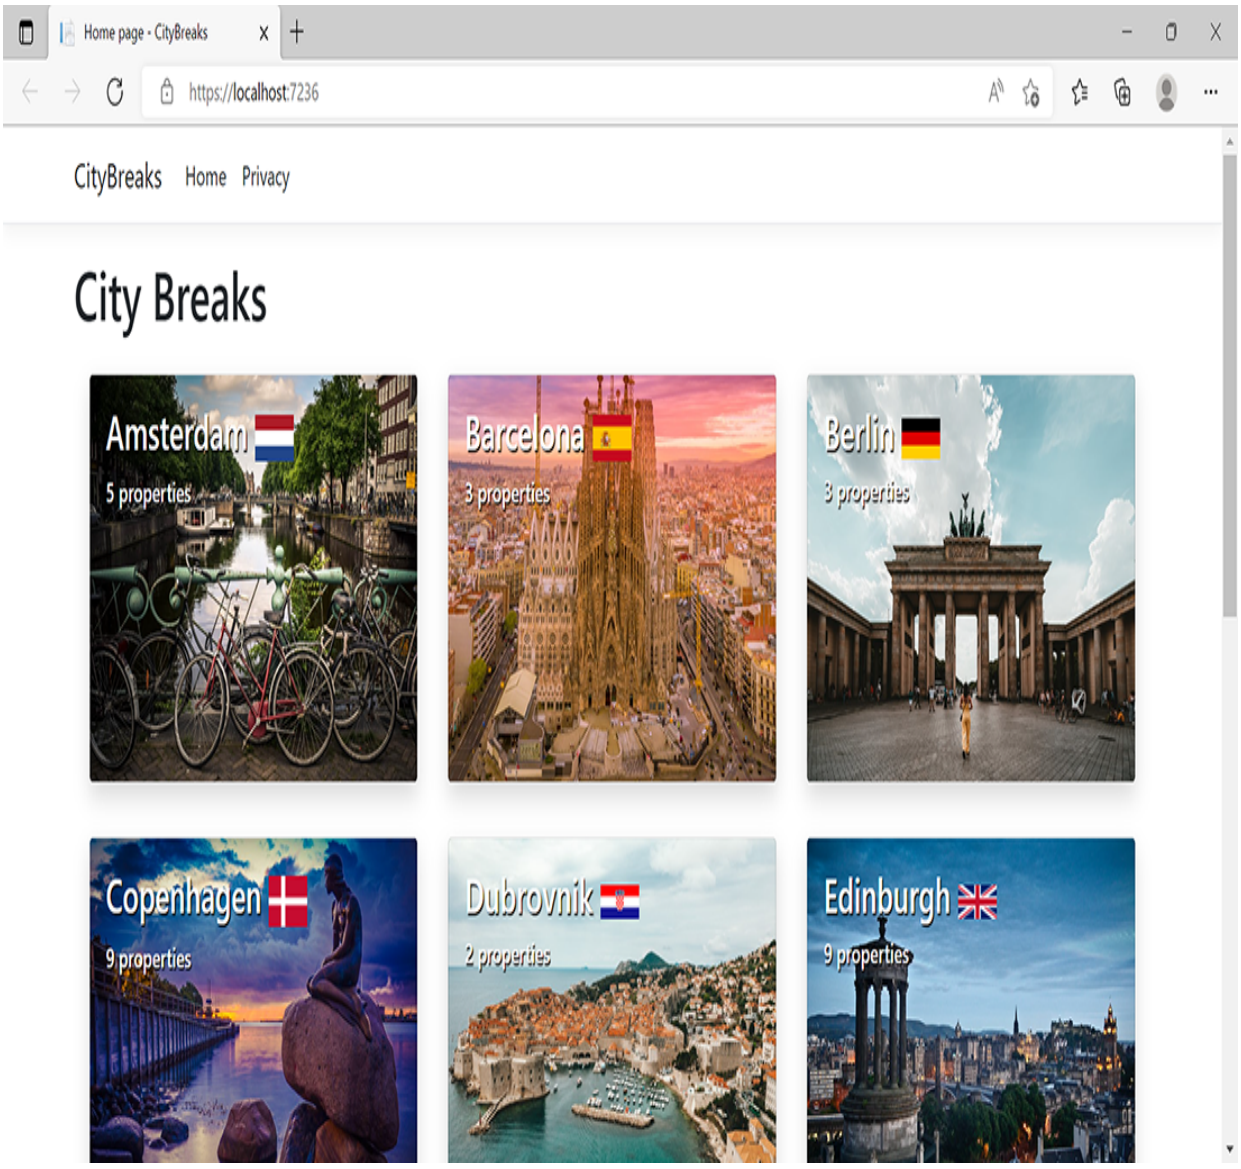

Figure 8.7 The home page displays data from the database.

Before you move on, navigate to /property-manager /create to ensure the select-city list is populated. Previously, that data came from the `SimpleCityService`, and now it originates from the database. Not only do you have a working database connected to your application, but you