

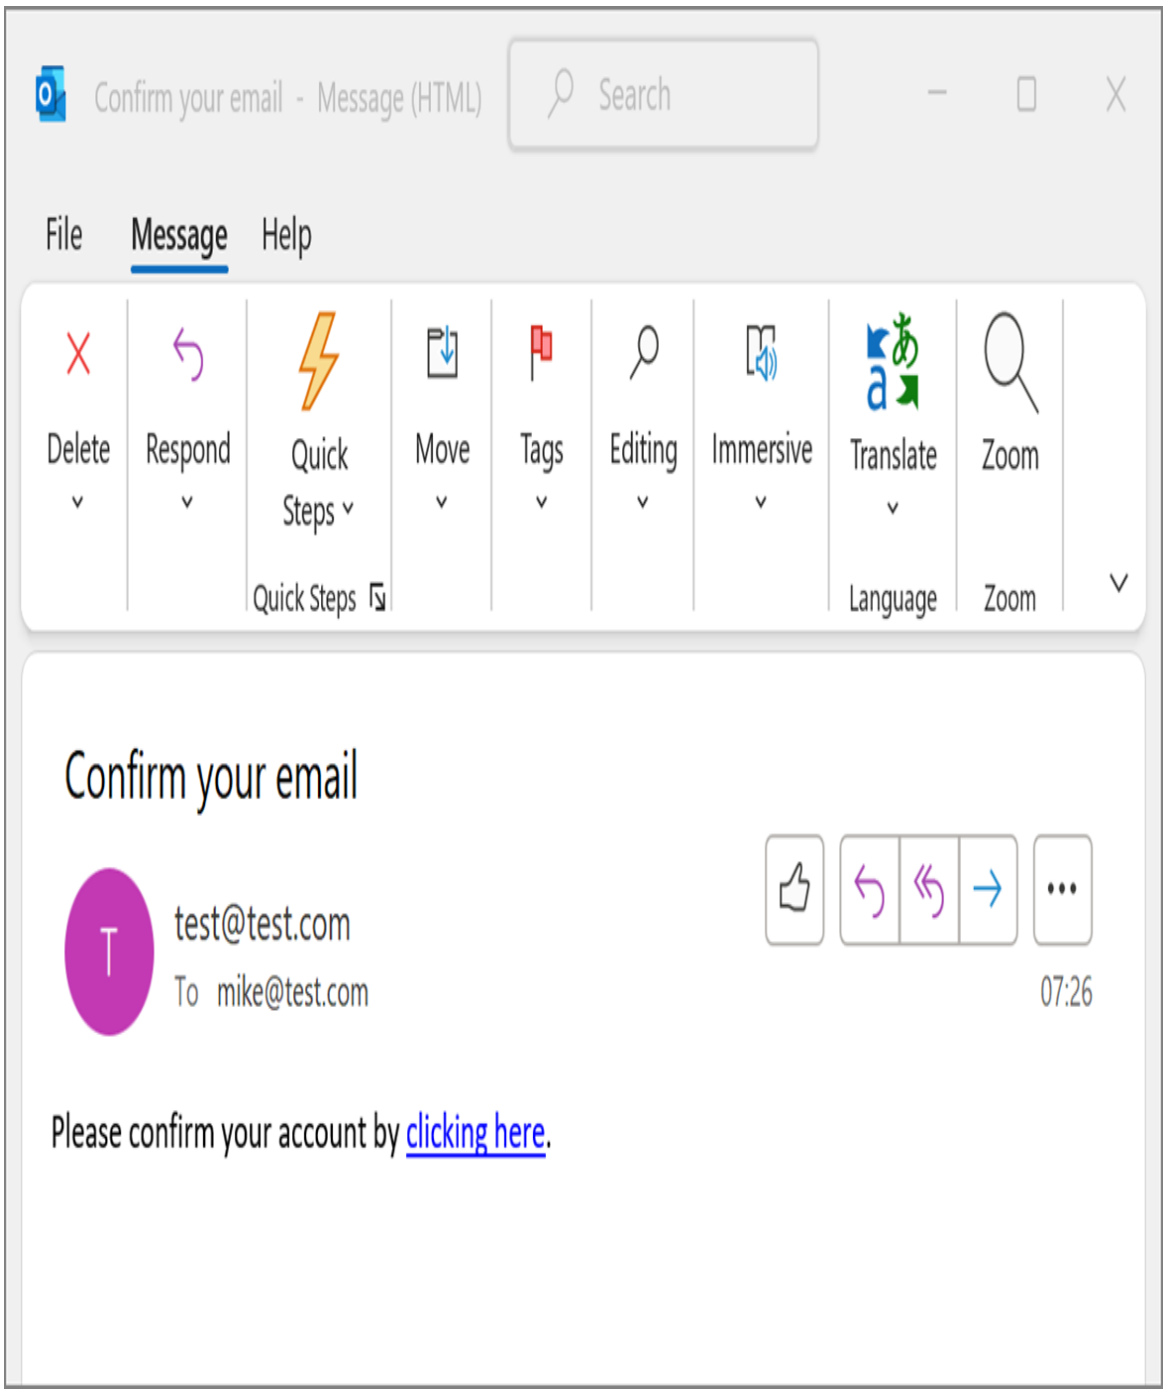

Figure 9.17 The confirmation email

You should be directed back to the application and rewarded with a message that your email is confirmed. Now you can sign in to the application. You can access all of the Identity UI when you do—even parts that provide workflows you do not