

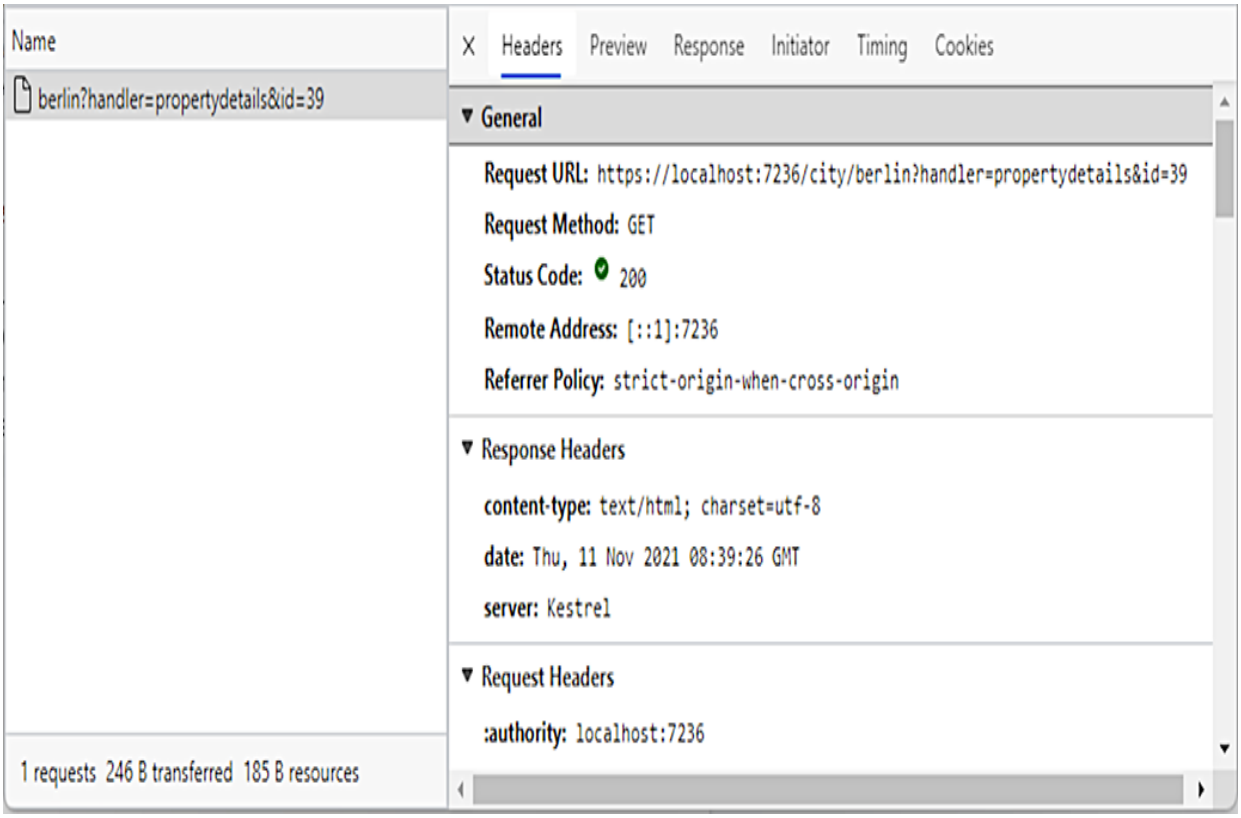

Figure 11.2 Click the request to see more details.

You can use the Response tab to see the actual response returned from the server on the right-hand side. In the example shown in figure 11.3, you can immediately tell from the existence of unicode characters that I have not configured any additional encodings beyond the default Basic Latin character set I covered in section 3.1.5.