

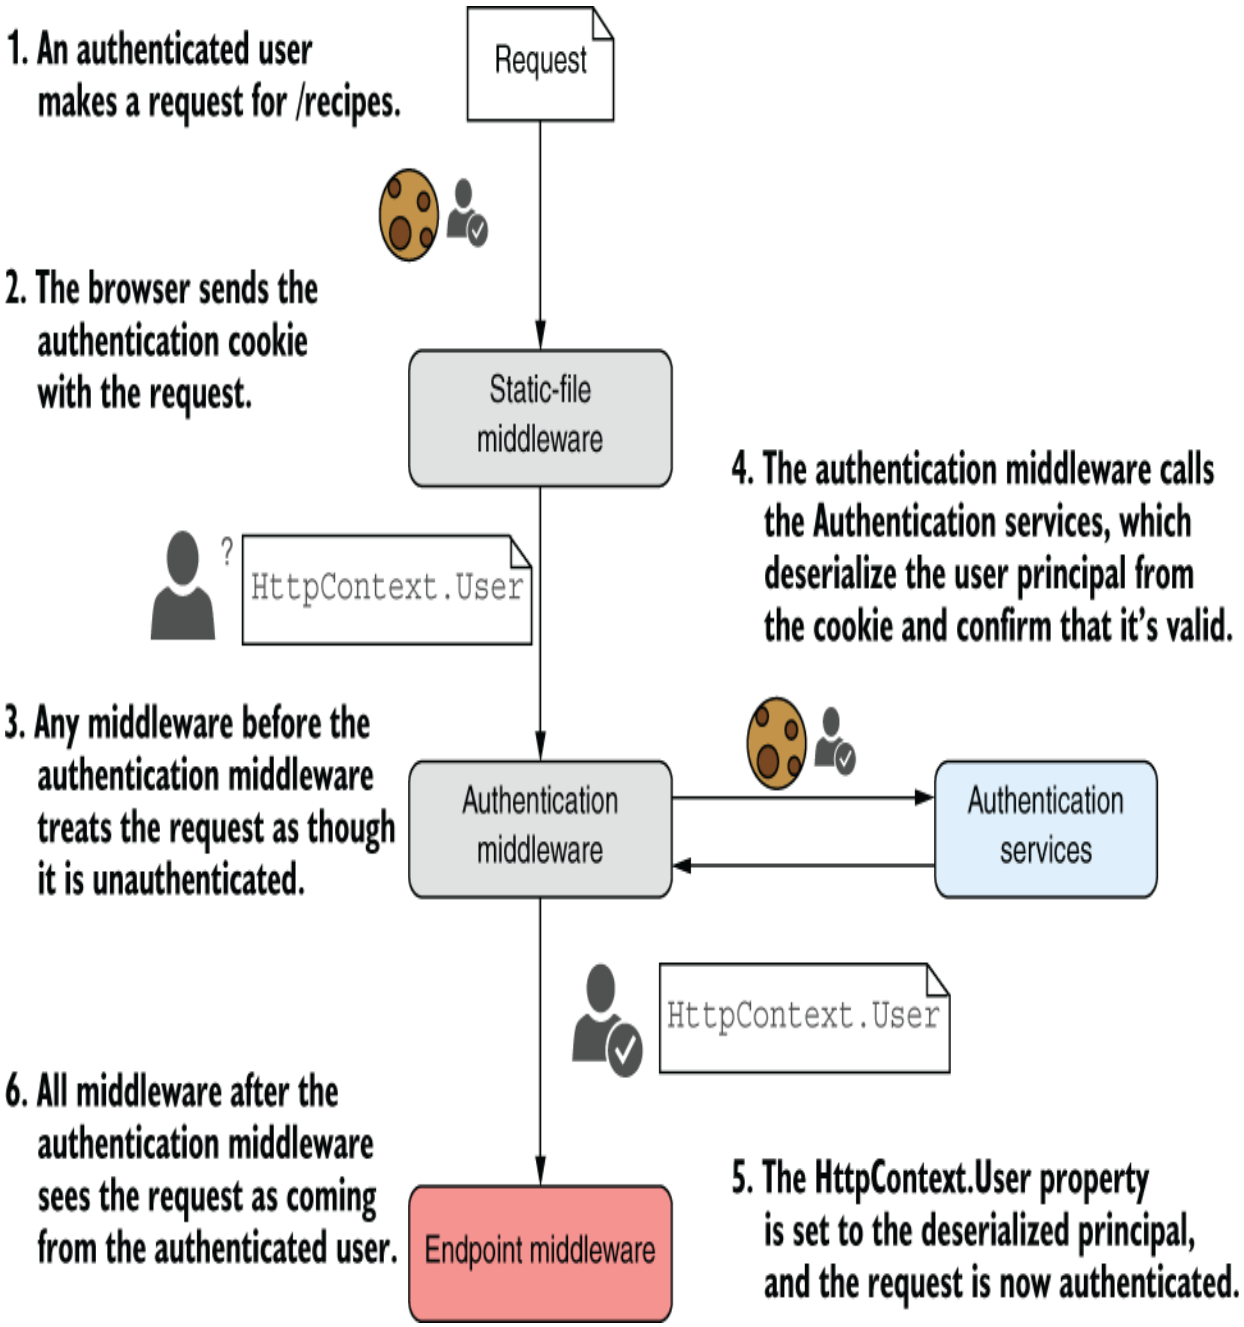

Figure 25.1 When a user first signs in to an app, the app sets an encrypted cookie containing the `ClaimsPrincipal`. On subsequent requests, the cookie sent with the request contains the user principal, which is deserialized, validated, and used to authenticate the request.