

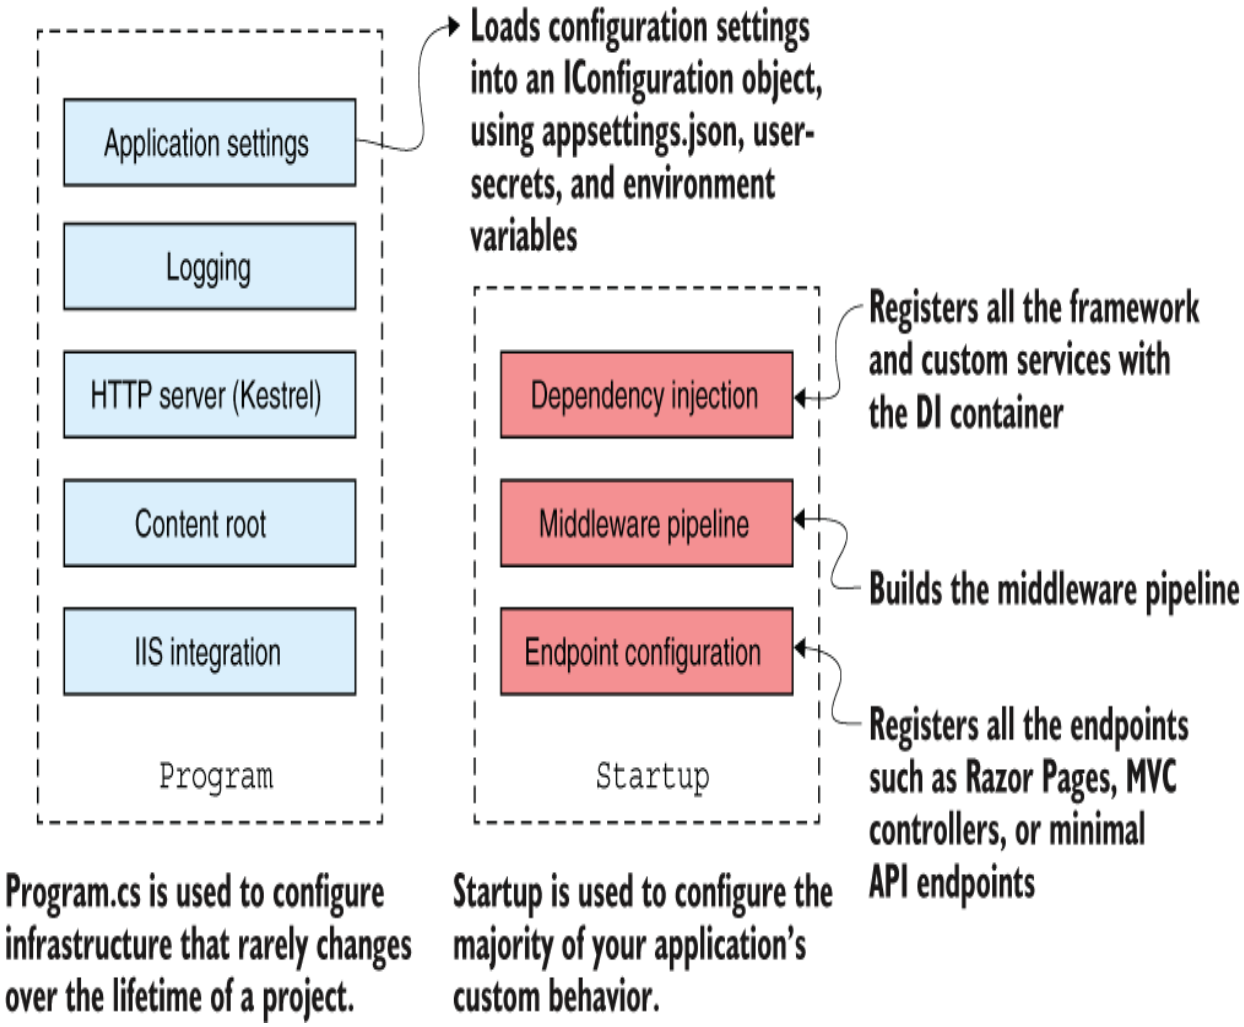

Figure 30.1 The different responsibilities of the `Program` and `Startup` classes in an ASP.NET Core app that uses the generic host instead of `WebApplication`

We'll look at each of these files in turn in section 30.2 and 30.3 to see how they might look for a typical Razor Pages app. I discuss the generic host at the center of this setup and compare the approach with the newer `WebApplication` APIs you've used so far throughout the book.
