

Figure 31.4 Endpoint routing separates the selection of an endpoint from the execution of an endpoint. The routing middleware selects an endpoint based on the incoming request and exposes metadata about the endpoint. Middleware placed before the endpoint middleware can act based on the selected endpoint, such as short-circuiting unauthorized