These methods allow you to specify dependencies that are automatically retrieved from the DI container and passed to the config action when the `IOptions` object is fetched from DI, as shown in figure 31.6. Five overloads for `Configure<TDeps>` allow you to inject dependencies, allowing you to inject up to five dependencies with these methods.

