- `StatusCodePagesMiddleware` lets you provide user-friendly custom error handling messages when the pipeline returns a raw error response status code. This is important for providing a consistent user experience when status code errors are returned, such as `404` errors when a URL is not matched to an endpoint.