13.5.3 UI and client-side enforcement

Authorization also applies to the front end. The C³ UI uses the same policies as the tenant PDPs to hide or disable unavailable actions. This prevents users from seeing Edit or Share buttons that would later be denied by the backend.

This doesn’t replace backend enforcement but improves user experience and decreases unnecessary request traffic.