A/B testing—that keep each phase disciplined and auditable. Together, they ensure that governance is not just a management process but also an operational reality (see the sidebar “ACME’s policy governance toolkit”).